

STUDIO SERIES

The latest way to great guitar sounds

HH are proud to present an entirely new series of portable amps that give you a lot of sound for reasonable cost. Each amp in the Studio Series has a matching Monitor speaker extension option which allows you to expand your sound in line with your performance and budget. Designed to meet the needs of today's guitarist and bass player, the new Studio Series amplifiers provide outstanding power and projection for all playing styles. The latest HH music technology makes these amps remarkably responsive to your instrument providing the best blend of features, power, tonality, and ruggedness for any performing requirement. The highest quality materials and construction are used throughout, so reliability under tough usage is exceptionally good, whilst giving you virtually unlimited sound possibilities even on a limited budget.

Versatile set-ups easily controlled

We know that your sound is important so we've built the Studio Series guitar and bass amps to give you outstanding tone versatility. The guitar amps have independent Gain and Master Volume controls which let you blend a wide range of smooth overdrive effects and the Saturation control gives you long lead sustains. Accutronics Reverb and Boost features are instantly brought in to add dimension and drive to your sound, controllable from the optional Studio Footswitch unit. Comprehensive rear panel connection features give you the flexibility for great sounds anywhere—in the studio, on stage, or for practice sessions, and we've provided a Headphone jack on each model so you can practice or tune in private.

You can make your sound even bigger and at the same time direct it where you want it by connecting up one of the new Monitor speakers. These flexible combo units are lightweight, easy to set up, and can be used as on-stage backline monitors or to produce a wider sound front across the stage that your audience will fully appreciate.
